

USING THE IWMMF-TALK ARCHIVES

Step 1: open your web browser (internet explorer, Mozilla, etc.)

Step 2: in the browser search bar, type in the address <http://lists.psu.edu> and press the enter key or click go.

Step 3a: if you see a log in screen, enter your email address as the login id, and use a password you've created yourself. If it does not accept your password, just click on "get a new LISTSERV password"

Login Required

The image shows a "Login Required" dialog box. It contains the following text: "Please enter your email address and your LISTSERV password and click on the 'Log In' button. If this is the first time you see this dialog, or if you have forgotten your password, you will need to get a new LISTSERV password first." Below the text are two input fields: "Email Address:" and "Password:". At the bottom, there are two buttons: "Log In" and "Change Password". A red arrow points from the "get a new LISTSERV password" link in the text to the "Change Password" button.

This service is provided and maintained by Information Technology Services at Penn State.
ITS tests systems every day between 5:00 a.m. and 7:30 a.m.
During this time, one or more services may not be available.

Step 3b: if you see a “Welcome to Listserv” screen such as the one below, click on the “Subscriber’s Corner” link.

Note: You will only need to log-in with your password the first time. If you are set to allow cookies on your computer then the next time you use the Archives you will not have to log-in. If you do not allow cookies on your computer then you will need to log-in whenever you go to the Archives. (A cookie is a small code placed in your internet files by the Archive computer that identifies you to the Archives computer as a register subscriber. It does not transmit any information other than the ID you entered to subscribe.):

Welcome To LISTSERV® 15

Log

Information Technology Services (ITS) uses the LISTSERV® system to manage almost 6,000 mailing lists containing a total of about 1,800,000 subscribers. Classes, clubs, committees and professional organizations use the lists for announcements and discussions.

Subscriber Pages

- Subscriber's Corner
Manage your list subscriptions on this server.
- Online Mailing List Archives
Browse the archives of public lists on this server.
- Archive Search
Search through multiple lists' archives at the same time.
- CataList Email List Search
Search for a list of interest with the official catalog of public LISTSERV® lists.

Administration

- Request a new mailing list
(Penn State Students and Employees) Fill out form requesting a new list
- Delete an existing mailing list
(List Owners Only) Send mail to request that a list be deleted.
- Mailing List Management Interface
(List Owners Only) Configure your list and manage subscriptions.
- Mailing List Moderation Interface
(List Moderators Only) Moderate list postings.
- Server Management Interface
(LISTSERV Administrator Only) Create lists, configure Web pages, view reports, and other functions.

Assistance

- Help
Read general instructions on using LISTSERV's Web interface.
- Information on the LISTSERV e-mail list management software
General information about L-Soft's LISTSERV® software, including the official LISTSERV documentation.
- Get a LISTSERV password for this server
(if you don't have a password or have forgotten it). The password is used to authenticate your e-mail address for certain web-based functions. You will only be granted access to areas to which your e-mail address is privileged.
- Theme Selection
Select a presentation scheme for the Web Interface pages. Choose among various color schemes, "big print", "default font" or "no style sheet". (Does not apply to lists' main web pages or the "Server Archives" page). This sets a cookie in your browser to save your selection.

Step 4a: if you saw the log in screen, and entered your email address and password and clicked login, the next screen you would see would be what is displayed below; obviously you're not quite where you want to be yet. At this point, click on "Subscriber's Corner"

Step 5: if you initially saw the log in screen, logged in, then saw a listing of a lot of different talklists, and clicked on Subscriber’s Corner, you should now see the same screen as the one in step 4b above.

Step 6a: to either view or search messages in the archives, click on IWMF-TALK that is shown in the screen in step 4b.

You will then see the following (you can at this point either click on a month to see the postings for that month, or search through the archives for particular topics by clicking on “Search Archives”):

Step 6b: to change your personal settings as a member of the list, on the screen displayed in step 4b above, you would click on the word [Settings] that is displayed to the right of IWMF-TALK (don't use the My Settings tab at this point, as it's not quite the same), and you will then see the screen below. Note: You don't have to change any settings if you're happy with what you have.

However, some helpful tips are:

1. you can select to receive IWMF-TALK messages in one daily email (rather than several emails throughout the day) by selecting Digest (traditional)
2. You can select to have your email temporarily disabled (if you're going on vacation, for example) by clicking on "Mail Delivery disabled temporarily" – just remember to go back in and click again on this to turn it off so that you will start receiving your messages!
